Variety presents an evening with
Miss World 2012
Yu Wenxia of China

In her first public appearance since jetting into Perth as a special guest for the Variety National Conference, Miss World 2012's Yu Wenxia will attend a special event on Monday 4 February to support the WA Chinese Chamber of Commerce's (WACCC) China Scholarship Program for 2013.

Yu Wenxia was crowned Miss World in a glitzy final held in the northern Chinese mining city of Ordos on the edge of the Gobi desert in August 2012. The final was watched by a worldwide TV audience of an estimated one billion viewers.

"When I was young I felt very lucky because so many people helped me, and I hope in the future I can help more children to feel lucky," Yu, a 23-year-old aspiring music teacher said when asked why she should be crowned.

The Scholarship Program sees the WACCC raise funds to contribute to university fees of those students living in Perth's Sister City Nanjing (300 km from Shanghai).

With WA's exports to China equal in value to more than half of all merchandise exports to China from the US, this event is both a celebration and commendation of the relationships between Perth and China.
